Illness Leads Man To Shoot Self To Death

R. C. Resident Leaves
Note Telling Reason
For Suicide

Poor health and fear that he might become a burden on his family led Bertrand Maninat, 55, widely known as the operator of "Bertrand's Cafe" in North Palo Alto and other Peninsula restaurants, to commit suicide Monday morning, Dep. Cor. John E. Layng and Police Officer George H. Kirchner of San Carlos reported after an investigation.

The body of Maninat, who lived on Upland Rd., Redwood City, was found at 7:45 a.m. on Alameda de las Pulgas at Arroyo Ave. in San Carlos by Roy McQuillen, former Sequoia High School athlete. The body was on the road behind Maninat's coupe. He had shot himself with a family-owned .32 calibre rifle, Officer Kirchner said, virtually blowing off the top of his head.

NOTE TELLS REASON

On the seat of Maninat's machine was found a note to his wife, Cleo, addressed "Dear Ma" and signed "Pa," Kirchner said. It ascribed his act to ill health, saying that he feared he was going to suffer paralysis, Kirchner said. Maninat had been under the care of a San Francisco physician, Kirchner said he was informed by members of the family.

Maninat had left his home as usual about 7:30 a.m., the grieving family told Officer Kirchner after being informed of the suicide. At that time, they said, he seemed in good spirits, although he had brooded over his health. However, he had been working regularly at his San Mateo cafe.

Besides his wife, Maninat leaves a son, Joseph Maninat, who lives at the family home, and a daughter, Mrs. Herbert Dengler of Palo Alto, who is ill.

ONE CAFE NOW

Maninat had lived in Redwood City for 20 years, although he was a native of France. For many years he operated the North Palo Alto cafe, located on Middlefield Rd. at Willow Rd., but had sold it and at the time of his death was owner only of a cafe on Baldwin Ave., San Mateo. He formerly operated the Belmont Casino also.

Besides leaving the note, Maninat left a recently written will which was found in his overcoat pocket, Layng said. He did not make contents of the will known, but turned it over to the family.

Funeral services have been set for 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Layng & Tinney Funeral Home. Burial will follow at Alta Mesa Cemetery. In accordance with a wish expressed in the note he left to Mrs. Maninat, the family has requested that no flowers be sent.

Water System Or Civic Center Urged at M. P.

MENLO PARK, July 13—The hope of acquiring a municipally-owned water system has not died in Menlo Park. The subject, dormant for nearly a year since a proposed bond issue for the establishment of municipal distribution was defeated at the polls, was renewed last night in the city council.

Councilman Hugo May proposed that Mayor J. E. Cooper be authorized to apply to the Public Works Administration for a federal grant to finance the cost of a new system, but he withdrew his motion upon the recommendation of Councilmen Henry Carroll and Harry J. Lusk.

Carroll declared that an ambitious municipal water development program might interfere with present plans to see a PWA grant for the construction of a civic center and recreation hall. The voters had defeated the plan for municipal ownership 11 months ago by an overwhelming majority, he recalled, and there has been no evidence of a changed feeling.

After contending that the opportunity to share the federal money may never come again, Councilman May suggested that the matter be put aside temporarily.

Mayor Cooper was given power to apply for a civic center grant, with the understanding that the city was not committed to a definite program but would be at liberty to drop or continue with plans if the federal government approves a grant. City Engineer Bert Mehl was ordered to prepare preliminary specifications for submission to the PWA if it requested them.

Bids for the construction of street improvements under program 37-1, including the central district, will be opened Aug. 9, according to the resolution of work adopted finally last night.

Dr. W. A. Van Buren and Frank M. Lintner, residents of San Mateo Dr., voluntarily agreed to dispose of their flocks of pigeons, chickens, and other poultry within 90 days, with the stipulation that should satisfactory progress have been made at that time they would have the option of asking an additional 30 days.

The two men were held to be violating city zoning ordinances governing the keeping of poultry within residential districts.

Two Holdouts On Sign Pact

That all Redwood City real estate dealers but two had now signed the "gentlemen's agreement" to remove signs from within the city limits of Redwood City was reported here by Teddy Lauman, secretary of the Redwood City District Real Estate Board.

The subject was discussed at a meeting Tuesday of realtors, insurance men and contractors in Hotel Sequoia, Lauman said, the gathering being primarily to consider means of securing closer cooperation between the three organizations.

"We previously had four holdouts to the sign agreement," Lauman said, "but after last night the number was reduced to two. We hope they will come into line soon."

The citizens' "Clean Up During 1938" committee had originally recommended that the signs be removed or drastically regulated by city ordinance, and an ordinance was first proposed. However, realtors decided they would prefer to have the gentlemen's agreement.

Tomato Signup County Group Offered Here Reveals Plans

Arrangements for tomato growers of San Mateo and Santa Clara Counties to secure stickers to put on their packages of tomatoes and to sign up in as directed by the Agricultural Prorate Act were being made on the Peninsula today by Jack Sturgess, deputy agent for Zone No. 2, of which A. G. Franklin is agent.

Growers must place the stickers on all containers before delivering them, Sturgess said.

Sturgess plans to contact growers on the first four days of each week, but will be in certain places at regular hours on Fridays and Saturdays throughout the season so that growers may sign up and obtain the stamps.

His schedule:
Fridays—Mountain View, at Cavagnara's Place, 9 a.m.; Palo Alto, at chamber of commerce office, 11 a.m.

Saturdays—Redwood City, chamber of commerce, 9 a.m.; San Mateo, chamber of commerce, 11 a.m.; San Bruno, 1 p.m.

Sturgess said he had been informed there were about 80 tomato growers in San Mateo County, many in the Menlo Park-North Palo Alto-East Palo Alto district, some on the Coastside, and many around San Bruno. There are some 175 growers in Santa Clara County.

Bus Line Patronage Still Insufficient

Patronage on his Redwood City Bus System has improved some recently but still is far from being adequate to justify continuance of the service, Operator Walter Vandervort reported.

Without a notable increase in business, Vandervort will be forced to discontinue the service, he said.

The new yellow bus, which travels on two routes, charges a fare of 10 cents one way, or 15 cents for a round trip to the business district and back. The 15-cent fare is good for any two trips, however. Hourly service is given over each route. In addition, special runs are made morning and evening to connect with commuter trains. Schedules may be obtained at the Southern Pacific railroad or Greyhound bus stations or in almost any Redwood City store.

$82,000 Total Cost Of Elections To County Taxpayers

County Clerk W. H. Augustus today predicted that the August primary and November general elections would cost San Mateo County taxpayers $82,000. Augustus Tuesday had submitted to the board of supervisors a resolution designating 240 precinct polling places, and naming election officers to serve at the primary. The board adopted the resolution.

The number of precincts has reached an all-time record this year, Augustus pointed out. Two years ago the county had 207 precincts. Largest increases, he said, were in the second, third and fifth supervisorial districts, although there were increases in registration generally throughout the county.

Augustus pointed out that the August election will cost about $42,000 compared to $40,000 for the November balloting. In the primaries, he pointed out, ballot for eight parties must be prepared. Cost of advertising is heavier because of one additional notice.

Supervisors adjourned yesterday afternoon until Monday, when they will meet as a board of equalization. The regular board meeting will convene Tuesday morning.

At yesterday's meeting a petition signed by 321 residents of Brisbane urged the board to name the proposed Brisbane lagoon park "Arthur Annis Memorial Playground." Annis, it was pointed out, was the "father of Brisbane" who came to the area in 1929 and pioneered its subdivision.

Meeting as a board of equalization, the board heard protests from Mrs. Anna F. Ludwig-Bratzel, Menlo Park, who claimed that her taxes had been increased 72 per cent and Mrs. F. Martini of Daly City, who complained that her property was assessed too high. In both cases the assessments by County Assessor Daniel P. Flynn were upheld by the board. Protest of C. C. Christensen, El Granada, was ordered investigated.

Club Modelo Names Officers

Indorsements for the proposed $88,000 Redwood City grammar school bond issue, to be voted on Aug. 2, continue to pour into school headquarters.

Five more were announced today. They are from the San Mateo County Labor Council, the Redwood City Barbers' Union, the Spanish Democratic Club of Redwood City, the Foresters of America, Court Madrone, and the Club Modelo, a Spanish club.

The Club Modelo, it was announced, at the meeting at which the school bonds were indorsed, voted to affiliate with the Cervantes Lodge of Sunnyvale, and will henceforth be known as Cervantes Lodge Branch 2. Cervantes lodge, it was explained, was organized in 1928 by the Spanish colony of the Peninsula and has paid to its members $30,000 in sick benefits and $10,000 in death benefits in 10 years.

Officers elected for the local branch are Francisco Rodriguez, president; Placido R. Toledo, vice president; Frank Gonzales, secretary; Miguel Caballero, assistant secretary; Antonio Rodriguez, treasurer; Luis Rodriguez, corresponding secretary; Juan Peregrina, assistant, and Juan Guernon, Manuel Galber, Emilio Sierra and P. Sanchez, directors.

Mrs. Howard Wood Dies in Santa Ana

Following a long illness, Mrs. Howard I. Wood, former Redwood City resident, passed away Tuesday night at her home in Santa Ana. Upon learning of their mother's death, her two children who reside in Redwood City left at once for the Southern California city. They are Mrs. Verne Lauer and James Wood, circulation manager for the Tribune.

Mrs. Wood lived in Redwood City for several years prior to her departure for Santa Ana in October, 1934. Mr. Wood while in Redwood City was secretary of the chamber of commerce. He holds a similar position now in Santa Ana.

Funeral services will be held in Santa Ana.

Many Awards Are Presented

After two glorious weeks beneath the giant redwoods of Camp Yumi-Ci-A in Memorial Park, 137 youngsters and 27 leaders and staff members of the annual YMCA camp were back at their homes today, having surrendered the camp Sunday to the Japanese Branch of the Young Men's Christian Association, from San Francisco.

"Y" Secty. Thomas W. Badley reported that the fortnight was "just perfect."

Accomplishments galore were recorded, outstanding ones being the election of 13 campers into the honorary "Raggers Society" and the qualifying of 57 youngsters for rifle awards. One boy, Sam Francis of San Mateo, passed four marksmanship qualifications in two weeks, a feat ordinarily requiring two months or more, Badley reported. Capturing second high honors in rifle work was Bob Robbins of South San Francisco. Clement R. Baume of Redwood City, USN retired, was rifle instructor. Under his supervision, 7000 rounds of ammunition were fired.

Many awards were given in swimming and in craft work also, Badley said. More types of craft work were offered this year than ever before.

Of the boys in camp, 28 were under 10 years of age, 32 were from 10 to 11; 47, 12 to 13; 23, 14 to 15; 5, 16 to 17, and 2 were over 18. Their stay in camp represented a total of 1805 days' care.

Five of the youngsters were signed up by their parents yesterday for next year's camp. Badley reported. Next year the camp is expected to be held in the YMCA's new camp at Jones Gulch, providing a more sunny site for the annual event.

W. H. Dossee, county camping committee chairman, made many trips into the camp, as did Fire Warden Bert L. Werder, county committee chairman. D. Fred Gatchel was assistant camp director.

Painters Return To Work; 2-Year Accord Reached

Peninsula painters were back on the job today following settlement of disputed issues between the Peninsula Painting Contractors' Association and journeymen painters in this vicinity Tuesday at a joint committee meeting in Palo Alto of representatives from both parties.

Floyd Baker of Ravenswood, secretary of the contractors' association, announced that a two-year contract was signed granting the painters a daily wage increase of 25 cents. The question of limiting union painters to employment with firms displaying "shop cards" was set over until Jan. 1, with the understanding that an arrangement satisfactory to both the union and employers would be determined by that time.

Attending the meeting were Baker, T. W. Von Hacht of Palo Alto, president of the association, and Louis Holson, also of the contractors' association. Representing the union were Frank Shearer, Redwood City; Harvey King, Palo Alto; Harry Nethercutt, San Mateo; C. E. Lewis and Tom Meagher, district organizer. Otto Herbig of Palo Alto presided as chairman of the joint contractors-union committee.

Negotiations between the two groups have been proceeding since Apr. 1, and reached a stalemate Monday when all Peninsula paint jobs were interrupted.

Of the boys in camp, 28 were under 10 years of age, 32 were from 10 to 11; 47, 12 to 13; 23, 14 to 15; 5, 16 to 17, and 2 were over 18. Their stay in camp represented a total of 1805 days' care.

Union Sought For Dockmen At Local Port

Manager Murphy Sets
Conference in S. F.
To Push Plans

Formation of a longshoremen's union at the Port of Redwood City will be sought by Port Manager Walter F. Murphy, he announced Wednesday.

At present longshoremen are secured in San Francisco to unload boats which dock at the municipal wharf. As a result, San Franciscans oftentimes get the local work while longshoremen who reside on the Peninsula—there are about 60 of them living south of San Bruno, many in the immediate vicinity of Redwood City—work in San Francisco.

Not only does this not assure work for local residents, but a hardship is worked on shipowners because they have to pay an hour's traveling time each way daily for longshoremen. Since this amounts to 95 cents an hour—$1.90 a day—per man, and there are a minimum of 30 men employed to unload each ship which docks here, the expense to shipowners is a deterrent to their sending their vessels here, Murphy explained. Formation of a Redwood City local would also enable Redwood City laborers to join the union more easily, it is expected.

PALO ALTO, July 11—N. O.

Lantz, 65, East Palo Alto farm worker, was instantly killed at 6:55 a.m. today when a San Jose-San Francisco commuter train struck his light delivery truck at the Diss Rd. grade crossing at Mayfield.

Lantz was on his way to work in an orchard in the Santa Clara Valley.

According to Charles Dunbar of San Jose, engineer, Lantz drove his truck onto the tracks in front of the train.

The accident threw schedules of six passenger trains about 15 minutes behind time.

The victim is survived by his wife, Grace, who is in the East speeding home, and two daughters. Mrs. Lantz is employed at the Veterans' Administration Hospital in North Palo Alto, and had accompanied a patient being transferred to Wisconsin. She had journeyed to Iowa and was visiting relatives there.

The daughters are Catherine, 24, employed at Stanford University, and Ruth, 21, who is in her second year of training at a Glendale sanitarium.

A spark from a rubbish fire was blamed today by Fire Chief Mark E. Ryan for the blaze which shortly after 12:30 p.m. Sunday burned a hole in the roof of the unoccupied dwelling at 211 Marshall St.

Chief Ryan said he believed the spark came from a fire on the parkway in front of the house which was being attended by Charles Agrotti, who only a short time before had secured a permit to burn the rubbish, cleaned up in anticipation of renting the recently vacated house. Agrotti was watching the fire and had a garden hose handy for use in case of emergency, but did not see the spark which landed on the shingle roof, he told Ryan, expressing surprise that it could have been his fire which caused the blaze. When the fire did start it was too high up to be reached with garden hose pressure.

The home is owned by Mrs. Angela Botto, 231 Marshall St., who said insurance covered the loss.

The fire department also extinguished two grass fires over the week-end, one at 4:30 p.m. Saturday at Charter St. and Pennsylvania Ave., and the other at 11 a.m. yesterday at Whipple Ave. and Oakdale St. No damage resulted from either.

FASO BOOKED, RELEASED

Liborio Faso, 69-year-old Sequoia High School gardener indicted for assertedly making false claims against the school treasury and forging school warrants, surrendered on a superior court bench warrant yesterday. He was booked at the county jail on the formal grand jury charges, and released under a $5000 property bond.

Mrs. Barnes' Kin Succumbs in S. F.

William Randolph, brother of Mrs. Bostwick Barnes of 812 Brewster Ave., died early Tuesday of a heart attack in San Francisco. He was a former rancher near Gridley, but had been retired for several years and living most of the time in

GEORGE DISCOVERS THE DEPRESSION

DEAR JOHNS-MANVILLE
REDWOOD CITY PLANT—

Aren't you pretty much worried about this depression? Is everything going to fold up? Or maybe I shouldn't have mentioned it.

GEORGE A. CITIZEN

SURE, BUSINESS IS BAD, BUT --

Why not mention it? We are only fooling ourselves if we do not admit that we are having one of those things we call a depression or a recession — or whatever other pet name you want to give it.

We don't know who dunnit, but it's here.

For instance, my Company operated at a loss of a quarter of a million dollars during the first quarter of this year. That may not sound like so much in these days when everybody talks about billions.

But my Company can't assess anybody to make up its deficits. It either has to make money or close down.

It can't just dream itself out of its deficit. But I'm sure you will be glad to know that my salesmen are working harder than ever to keep the orders coming in.

The only source of our money is customers—and customers are not very plentiful these days.

In spite of all my salesmen can do our business has continued to drop ever since last August. We're as mad as anybody about this. We have hated to ask our jobholders to work shorter hours. We have hated, worst of all, to have to lay off some of our men because there was no work.

But, is everything going to fold up? My answer to that, George, is NO. America is not going back to the Indians. This country has the leaders and nobody has any better salesmen and workers. All we need is a sympathetic pat on the back and to be told that we can work out our problems.

My Company has come through every depression of the last eighty years—keeping a majority of its jobholders at work. It will weather this one, too.

We are a pretty weather-proof outfit. Just remember, George. Even today, in spite of bad times, Johns-Manville still has more employees than we had at the peak of the big year of 1929.

-Johns-Manville Redwood City Plant

P.S.—Since this letter is about the depression and how I have to cut down on expenses because of it, you'll understand why my messages have become only about half as long as they used to be.

Hillsborough Plans Own Water System

HILLSBOROUGH, July 12—The Hillsborough City Council last night voted to adopt a resolution which will introduce an ordinance calling for a special election for acquisition of a water system, which will in turn contemplate a $350,000 special bond election.

In many cases, premature gray hair is hereditary.

HEALTH CHANGES URGED
Labor's Non Partisan League of the City of San Mateo in a resolution have urged the county supervisors (1) to appoint as director of public health a physician trained by the U. S. Public Health Service; (2) to form a county health committee; (3) to have the public health service investigate health conditions in the county; and (4) to apply for a PWA grant to aid construction of a tuberculosis pavilion at Community Hospital.

National Organization Names De Brum Head

Joseph De Brum, commercial instructor at Sequoia High School, has been advanced to the presidency of the Department of Business Education of the National Education Association, he informed Sequoia Principal A. C. Argo by letter here from New York, where he has been attending the NEA convention.

De Brum was vice president of the organization last year.

Principal Argo saw in the election of the local man the making of Sequoia "the center of business education in the United States."

P. A. Man Kills Buck's Estate Wife, Then Self Bequeathed To Kin, Churches

PALO ALTO, July 13—Edwin R.
McCarthy, 35, 2620 Cowper St., Palo Alto, followed up a threat he made in March when he shot and killed his wife and then committed suicide before a score of spectators in the dining room of Asilomar, Pacific Grove resort, yesterday.

To his wife, Lillian, McCarthy had said in March when they separated,
"I will kill you if ever I see you with the man who has broken up our marriage."

Yesterday the contractor strode into the resort dining room where his wife was a waitress, drew a pistol from his pocket and shot her three times. He shot her twice more after she had fallen to the floor, and then turned the gun on his own heart as the resort manager, David Visel, rushed at him with an upraised chair.

In his clothes police found two notes, one addressed to Leonard Avilla, Palo Alto lawyer who was handling an alienation of affections brought against Ellsworth Mc-Fadden, wealthy Auburn mining man, by McCarthy following their separation.

The other note referred to the March threat, saying, "I told her I would kill her if I caught her with him. I did, last night." It also mentioned McFadden.

John Golden, American playwright and producer, has composed more than 1000 songs.

conveyed to Arthur as above mentioned, distant thereon South

the point of commencement;

ary line of the land so conveyed to Arthur 27 feet 6 inches to the point of commencement.

Buck's Estate Wife, Then Self Bequeathed To Kin, Churches

George H. Buck, superior court judge and district attorney of San Mateo County for half a century, who died July 5, left the bulk of his estate to his widow, Elizabeth M. Buck, with specific bequests totaling $16,000 to two Redwood City churches, a fraternal organization, a niece, a nephew, and a brother.

The holographic will, dated Feb.
17, 1936, stated, "I want all my property to be considered community property of which my wife is entitled to one-half of it. I also give her the home place in which we now live and all in and about the home place."

The specific bequests:

To the First Methodist Episcopal Church, Redwood City, $1000.
To the Mt. Carmel Catholic Church, Redwood City, $1000.

To Bayview Lodge 109, IOOF, Redwood City, $1000.

To Mrs. Ruth Lamb, a niece, and Henry G. Buck, a nephew, living at Santa Rosa, $4000 each.

To Adelbert C. Buck, a brother, and his wife, Alice, of Harrison,

Condon, Bus Line Operator, Passes

A heart ailment which had confined him to a San Mateo hospital for two days brought death early Wednesday to Walter G. Condon, 44, operator for the past seven years of the Middlefield Rd. bus which ran between Redwood City and Palo Alto.

Mr. Condon, who lived at 123
Beresford Ave. with his wife, Evelyn, to whom he was married only a few weeks ago, and three children by a previous marriage, Katherine, William and Robert, had resided in Redwood City for the past 10 years. He was a native of New York.

Funeral services are being arranged at the Layng & Tinney Funeral arrangements.

Me., $5000.

All the remainder of Judge Buck's share of the estate goes by his direction to his widow.
Not mentioned in the will were Howard M. Buck of Santa Rosa, father of Mrs. Lamb and Henry Buck; or Elizabeth Greene of Bar Mills, Me., a sister.

Judge Buck also left nothing to Mrs. E. Louise Lake of Glendale, who has been living at the Buck home, and her son, George, explaining that "I know my wife will take care of them." Mrs. Lake is a niece of Mrs. Buck.

Audit of District Books Favorable To Supervisors

The board of supervisors Tuesday adopted the recommendation of the grand jury to refuse consideration of budgets from special assessment districts unless the budget requests are accompanied by a certified audit of district accounts. Only question was the extent of the order, some members contending that the grand jury recommendation, limited to revenue producing and utility districts, did not go far enough.

County Clerk W. H. Augustus was authorized to inquire of the grand jury the exact meaning of its recommendation and the number and kinds of districts which should be included in the order.

Supervisor James S. James urged that the order be made to include all districts handling public tax funds.

The board passed a resolution endorsing a petition to Governor Merriam and State Finance Director A. R. Stockburger from the City of South San Francisco asking for emergency funds to clear the Colma drainage canal.

FOUR MORE ORGANIZATIONS FAVOR $88,000 SCHOOL BOND PROPOSAL

Bonds in the amount of $88,000 to aid in financing construction of three school additions should carry unanimously Aug. 2, judging from support which is being given to the proposal.

Four more organizations announced here that they had gone on record unanimously in favor of the issue. They are the American Legion, Redwood City Post 105; the Loyal Order of Moose, Redwood City Lodge 1112; the Redwood City District Real Estate Board and the Redwood City Association of Insurance Agents.

M. W. Berry, adjutant, and Roger Walsh, commander, of the legion, said that at the post's Monday night meeting a resolution was adopted in which the organization recommended to the voters of the school district that a "yes" vote be recorded.

Dictator R. H. Parker of the Moose said the lodge would support the issue "to the fullest extent of the children of Redwood City, as at present our school rooms are overcrowded, a fact which hinders the children in learning."

Teddy Lauman, secretary of both the real estate board and the insurance organization, said the realtors voted Tuesday at a meeting in Hotel Sequoia to support the issue, after hearing an explanation of it by School Supt. Andrew Spinas. The insurance men had gone on record for the proposal last week, Lauman said.

Lumber Firm Fire Perils Large Plant

A dangerous fire was narrowly averted at the large Progress Lumber Co. yards on El Camino Real south of Redwood City late Saturday when a grass blaze spread to two piles of lumber.

While loss was less than $100, according to company officials, three fire trucks were called to the scene at 4:45 p.m. to extinguish the rapidly-spreading blaze. One county fireman, Manuel Romero, was slightly injured when struck by one of the pieces of burning lumber thrown from the blazing pile.

Fire warden's deputies stated they believed the fire was caused by an earlier fire, set by an employee of the lumber firm, to burn off grass, which spread to a sawdust pile unnoticed and smoldered until late afternoon, after everyone had gone from the plant. Officials at the lumber firm declined to ascribe a cause for the fire. It was discovered by a service station operator.

Damascus is believed to be the oldest city in the world still inhabited.

The first fire alarm box in the United States was used in Boston, Mass., in 1851.

The leaves of a species of golden-rod have been used as a substitute for ver and vegetables.

Funds Asked For Pavilion

San Francisco supervisors today were pondering a request for funds to aid completion of the livestock pavilion in Visitation Valley, while City Atty. John J. O'Toole looked up the law on the subject.

Fred D. Parr, new president of Agricultural District 1-A, Monday asked the board for $525,000 for a sponsor's contribution to a PWA project. He originally had asked $825,000, but said that other sources will be tapped and that the lower amount will be sufficient.

Attorney O'Toole recalled, however, that several years ago the city's bond attorneys believed that such aid to the district would not be legal. That opinion and others were referred to the supervisors' finance committee for study.

The $525,000 would be raised by a bond issue, Parr said.

Peninsula Dark As Power Fails

Failure of an "insulator bus" on the main line at Newark was blamed by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. officials today for a power failure at 11:08 o'clock Sunday night that plunged the entire Peninsula and a large section of San Francisco into darkness for five minutes.

The occurrence provided an opportunity for Redwood City theater patrons to see in use an emergency setup arranged at the Sequoia Theater. Hardly had the lights begun to flicker than Manager Hal Honore switched on a dozen automobile spotlights which flooded stairways and aisles with light from all angles. Honore explained that the theater weekly has a "lights-out" drill in preparation for just such an emergency.
